

Resources

ICON	LINK	DESCRIPTION
	a4cwsn.com	This site offers video reviews of apps in action and reviews of whether they're worth your while.
	www.iewar.org	Community of over 500 educators reviews the overall educational value of "educational apps".
	spedapps2.wikispaces.com	A wiki that reviews apps to support learning in home, school, and therapy settings to help people make informed decisions before downloading.
	http://momswithapps.com/	Moms With Apps is a blog that supports family-friendly developers seeking to promote quality apps for kids and families.
	BridgingApps.org	Parents, therapists, doctors, and teachers share information on using the iDevices and Android® devices with people with disabilities.

Resources

 The logo for 'Learning in Hand' features the text 'Learning in Hand' in white on an orange rectangular background. Below this, a dark blue horizontal bar contains the words 'Blog', 'Podcasting', 'iPod touch', 'iPad', and 'iPod' in white text.	learninginhand.com	A resource for educational technology by Tony Vincent. From netbooks and web applications to iPods, iPads, and podcasting,
 The logo for 'inov8 educational consulting' features the word 'inov8' in a stylized font where the 'o' is a colorful arc. Below it, the words 'educational consulting' are written in a smaller, sans-serif font.	www.inov8-ed.com	"There's A Special App For That" – an 11 part series on iPhone, iPod Touch and iPad apps for students with special needs.
 The logo for 'Lillie's Pad' features a small icon of a tablet with a white square on its screen, followed by the text 'Lillie's Pad' in a green, rounded font. Below the text is a small line of text: 'Your special needs resource for the iPad and iPhone'.	www.lilliespad.com	The mission of this site is to be an up-to-date resource for everything special needs related to the iPad and iPhone.
 The logo for 'Appolicious' is a green rounded square with a white lowercase letter 'a' in the center.	appolicious.com	Appolicious is a social networking site that reviews iOS and Android apps. Enter "Special Education" in the search box to see over 6,000 apps.
 The logo for 'Apphappy' features a stylized blue face with a wide smile, set against a white background that resembles a tablet screen, which is itself on a brown wooden surface.	http://apphappy.posterous.com/	A fantastic blog written by the mother of a child with a disability, reviews iPad apps and resources for education and assistive technology.
 The icon for the 'i.AM' app is a blue rounded square with a white starburst or asterisk shape in the center.	http://itunes.apple.com/us/app/i.am-search/id459557470?mt=8	i.AM is an app that sorts through and list apps that may be helpful based on the profile of a specific student with ASD.

Resources

	https://www.quixey.com/	An online search engine that will find apps based on what you want to do.
	http://www.spectronicsinoz.com/apps-for-special-education	A collection of apps divided by curriculum and described in terms of accessibility, differentiation, feedback, and comments.
	http://bit.ly/10nQsgs	Speech-language pathologist and instructional technology specialist Sean J. Sweeney's framework for filtering technology resources, including apps, for SLPs.

NOTES:

Resources
